A CCOL ASSUMPTION.

The assumption of the Knoxville Tribune in its issue of Sunday morning, is about the coolest thing we have seen. It assumes that the Democratic party is entitled to the credit of specie resumption. As Don Piatt would say, it beats "the old scratch." Here is a newspaper that has fought ever since its existence, against the resumption of specie payments, claiming that the party, of which it is an accredited minious defeat, that the Democratic newspapers would come out for specie resumption and by another campaign would swear they had always been for it. It is true, we had not supposed that they would claim credit for an achievement they had sought to prevent; but there is no accounting for their cheek. They have adopted ume pretty much everything that they have opposed, and we are at a loss to know what issues they will raise in the next campaign. There is one issue they made a few years ago in this and other Congressional Districts, from which to it, and that is "free whisky and a still house in every holler." When all else fails them this will be their rallying cry. This inare willing to make a fight. In the sented in this department of the perimatter of the currency and other financial questions, they are governed by expedience, but for "free whisky and a still house in every holler" they can stand firm.

SCIENTIFIC RECTIFICATION.

Lord Beaconsfield has added a new and happily chosen phrase to Oliphant, Anthony Trollope, etc. In the language, one that will doubtless come into general use. The process of taking away a large quantity of the territory of the Ameer of Afghanistan, which the English are now performing, he delicately terms "a scientific rectification of the Indian frontier." Capital conception! A new and beautiful designation for an old and very common practice. In a late number of Punch a few apt illustraters. "Mary Smith, lady's maid, was charged, before the Justices of Blankshire, with the theft of a seal-skin jacket, the property of her mistress. The accused indignantly repudiated the charge of theft. She had long felt the inconvenience of winter woolen wraps, at once so heavy and so common, and had merely availed herself of the first opportunity of scientifically rectifying her wardrobe."

In pudicious use of "printers' ink," has recently given the public the benefit of his experience. He holds that advertising should be included in the general estimate of expense, as regularly as store rent, clerk hire and interesting to the surance. It is often said that a good stand at a high rent is better than a poor one rent free. Advertising brings a man before the public in a way that makes any "stand" good. The best stand you can have is to be in the newspapers. These are facts brought out in the experience of the fall trade, on the said flows: On the north by E. J. KNOXVILLE CHRONICLE FOR 1879. Subscrib for a Good, Reliable News-

The DAILY CHRONICLE, and WEEKLY WHIG AND CHRONICLE, will be kept up during the year 1879 to their usual high standard. By enterprise, accurateness, and close attention to the wants of our readers, we hope to merit a continuation of the liberal patronage heretofore extended these journals.

Nearly nine years ago, when there was not a Republican daily in the State, and only two or three in the South, we commenced the publication of the CHRONICLE. In all these years we have battled for Republican principles, and see no reason to change our course now. Hence we shall continue to publish truthful, reliable Republican journal, not the organ of any man or clique, but the outspoken and fearless advocate of principles, measures and men, best calculated to promote the welfare of the country and the Republican party. We will endeavor to make our agricultural columns worth more to farmers than our subscription price. As a newspaper our publications shall not be excelled in the State. In addition to our telegraphic dispatches from all parts of the world, our readers shall have the benefit of correspondence and every other means through which reliable information is obtained,

Each number of the paper will contain selections made with special reference to the home circle. We will continue to avoid everything calculated to contaminate, and will publish a paper that may be taken prices without question within the sacred precints of the family circle.

Our market reports shall have close attention, and be made entire-

We call upon all persons interested in the publication of our independent, fearless, reliable Republican journal to come to our aid and assist in extending the circulation of the DAILY CHRONICLE and WEEKLY WHIG AND CHRONICLE.
